IV. Course Requirements

- 1) Always have your student ID card for access to the RSF.
- 2) Be on time and ready to exercise at the start of class time.
- 3) Each student must abide by the university's honor code (see <https://teaching.berkeley.edu/berkeley-honor-code>):

“As a member of the UC Berkeley community, I act with honesty, integrity, and respect for others.”

Violation of the Honor Code shall result in a grade of an “F” for the course.

- 4) This is a university course; “extra credit” is not available. Just complete everything properly initially.
- 5) The use of phones, headphones and other electronic equipment is not allowed during class.
- 6) Enjoy the course. You are here at UC Berkeley - the top public institution of higher education in the world - because you are one of the best and the brightest. Do your best; always act with honor. Fiat Lux.

V. Official Policies of the University of California at Berkeley

Statement of Accommodation. The University of California at Berkeley provides reasonable accommodations to students with disabilities through the Disabled Students' Program (<https://dsp.berkeley.edu>). For more information regarding these services, please contact the staff in the Disabled Students' Program via telephone at 510.642.0518, visit in person at 260 Cesar Chavez Student Center, or email at dsp@berkeley.edu.

Accommodation of Religious Creed. The University of California at Berkeley is compliant with Education code, Section 92640(a) and permits any student to undergo a test or examination, without penalty, at a time when that activity would not violate the student's religious creed, unless administering the examination at an alternative time would impose an undue hardship which could not reasonably have been avoided (see <https://sa.berkeley.edu/uga/religion> for detailed information).

Academic Integrity. "You are a member of an academic community at one of the world's leading research universities. Universities like Berkeley create knowledge that has a lasting impact in the world of ideas and on the lives of others; such knowledge can come from an undergraduate paper as well as the lab of an internationally known professor. One of the most important values of an academic community is the balance between the free flow of ideas and the respect for the intellectual property of others. Researchers don't use one another's research without permission; scholars and students always use proper citations in papers; professors may not circulate or publish student papers without the writer's permission; and students may not circulate or post materials (handouts, exams, syllabi--any class materials) from their classes without the written permission of the instructor.

"Any test, paper or report submitted by you and that bears your name is presumed to be your own original work that has not previously been submitted for credit in another course unless you obtain prior written approval to do so from your instructor. In all of your assignments, including your homework or drafts of papers, you may use words or ideas written by other individuals in publications, web sites, or other sources, but only with proper attribution. If you are not clear about the expectations for completing an assignment or taking a test or examination, be sure to seek clarification from your instructor or GSI beforehand. Finally, you should keep in mind that as a member of the campus community, you are expected to demonstrate integrity in all of your academic endeavors and will be evaluated on your own merits. The consequences of cheating and academic dishonesty—including a formal discipline file, possible loss of future internship, scholarship, or employment opportunities, and denial of admission to graduate school—are simply not worth it." (Quoted directly from <https://teaching.berkeley.edu/statements-course-policies#academic>).

All students must abide by the Berkeley Campus Code of Student Conduct <https://sa.berkeley.edu/codeof-conduct>.

Scheduling Conflicts. Please notify the instructor in writing by the second week of the term about any known or potential extracurricular conflicts (such as religious observances, graduate or medical school interviews, or team activities). The instructor shall try his or her best to help you with making accommodations, but cannot promise them in all cases. In the event there is no mutually workable solution, you may be dropped from the course. (For more information, see the Guidelines Concerning Scheduling Conflicts with Academic Requirements <https://academicsenate.berkeley.edu/sites/default/files/guide-acad-sched-conflicts-final-2014.pdf>).
