

PHYS ED 1 Interval Sports Training

Instructor: Dini Wong
Contact: Email: dkwong@berkeley.edu
Office: 39 RSF
Office Hours: Tues 9-10a
Required Text: None
Suggested Text: Developing Agility and Quickness (Sports Performance) by Jay Dawes and Mark Roozen

I. Course Description: Interval Sports Training is a course designed for individuals interested in improving their fitness through training based on sports inspired interval drills and games.

II. Statement of Course Goal and Learning Objectives: The goal of this course is to provide a beginning level introduction to efficient movement biomechanics and to improve fitness for sports (football, basketball, soccer, ultimate frisbee, etc.). Objectives: At the conclusion of the course, students shall be able to:

- 1) Perform basic speed building movements. Including but not limited to:
 - a. Acceleration Biomechanics
 - b. Lateral Movement Biomechanics
 - c. Deceleration Biomechanics
 - d. Constant Speed and Max Speed Sprinting Biomechanics
- 2) Perform these techniques in fitness circuits and games played in class.
- 3) Improve personal fitness level and also help others improve too.

III. Method of Assessment and Evaluation before March 13th. Adjusted Grading is in Section IV. The achievement of course objectives shall be assessed by the following:

- | | |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| 1) Attendance | 50 points |
| 2) Effort | 20 points |
| 3) Technical Test | 25 points |
| 4) Sportsmanship | 5 points |

Total Points: 100 points

Grading Breakdown

100 points total

- 70pts to pass.
- The class is curved.

Attendance: 50pts

- Each class you attend is worth 3.57pts

Effort: 20pts

- Each class is worth a maximum of 1.43pts

Based on:

- How hard you work.
- Willingness to learn, are you coachable?
- How well you listen.
- How well you perform the exercises.

Technical Test: 25pts

Evaluation is ongoing for the following skills and techniques:

- Acceleration and Deceleration
- Lateral Movement
- Top Speed and Constant Speed Mechanics

Sportsmanship: 5

Graded on:

- Playing the games according to the rules and following the spirit of the game.
- How do you treat your opponents?
- How do you treat your teammates?

Arriving Late to Class

Class begins at 10:15. Every 5 minutes that you are late you lose .25 pts off your grade (.18points from Attendance and .07 from Effort and Participation).

Missed Classes

No make-ups after the absence are allowed unless classes were missed due to late enrollment. Students may do two pre-make up classes for specific future dates. To pre-make up a 2-hour class, 2 hours of attendance in a PE class that the student is not enrolled in is required. Students may drop into Dini Wong's classes and may attend other PE classes but must get approval from the instructor before attending.

IV. ADJUSTED Method of Assessment and Evaluation after March 27th due to the move to online classes: The achievement of course objectives shall be assessed by the following:

1) Attendance and Effort up until 3/20/20	40 points
2) Workout Check-Ins starting 3/30/20	45 points
3) Technique	10 points
4) Sportsmanship	5 points
Total Points:	100 points

Currently, our class will be modified as follows.

- The points earned for the beginning of the semester will be carried over (max 40 points including attendance and effort).
- I will hold online meetings at the original time of your class. I will be running workouts and answering questions. I encourage you to join these. However, these are not mandatory.
- Workouts are required- 45pts (each check-in on Google Forms is worth 9pts)
 1. You will be accountable for at least two 35-minute workouts (warm-up, workout, stretch) per week. I will run one of the home workouts during our Zoom class on Friday's. You'll do the other workout on your own. This could be on the same day or a different day.
 2. There will be a Google form to fill out at the end of each week so you can sign off on your workouts and answer some questions about them. If you did the workout with me online you will still be responsible for filling out the form.
- Sportsmanship (5pts) and Technique (10pts) will carry over with how you performed before March 27th

V. Course Requirements

- 1) Always have your student ID card for access to the RSF.
- 2) Be on time and ready to exercise at the start of class time.
- 3) Each student must abide by the university's honor code (see <https://teaching.berkeley.edu/berkeley-honor-code>):

“As a member of the UC Berkeley community, I act with honesty, integrity, and respect for others.”

Violation of the Honor Code shall result in a grade of an “F” for the course.

- 4) This is a university course; “extra credit” is not available. Just complete everything properly initially.
- 5) The use of phones, headphones and other electronic equipment is not allowed during class.
- 6) Enjoy the course. You are here at UC Berkeley - the top public institution of higher education in the world - because you are one of the best and the brightest. Do your best; always act with honor. Fiat Lux.

VI. Official Policies of the University of California at Berkeley

Statement of Accommodation. The University of California at Berkeley provides reasonable accommodations to students with disabilities through the Disabled Students' Program (<https://dsp.berkeley.edu>). For more information regarding these services, please contact the staff in the Disabled Students' Program via telephone at 510.642.0518, visit in person at 260 Cesar Chavez Student Center, or email at dsp@berkeley.edu.

Accommodation of Religious Creed. The University of California at Berkeley is compliant with Education code, Section 92640(a) and permits any student to undergo a test or examination, without penalty, at a time when that activity would not violate the student's religious creed, unless administering the examination at an alternative time would impose an undue hardship which could not reasonably have been avoided (see <https://sa.berkeley.edu/uga/religion> for detailed information).

Academic Integrity. "You are a member of an academic community at one of the world's leading research universities. Universities like Berkeley create knowledge that has a lasting impact in the world of ideas and on the lives of others; such knowledge can come from an undergraduate paper as well as the lab of an internationally known professor. One of the most important values of an academic community is the balance between the free flow of ideas and the respect for the intellectual property of others. Researchers don't use one another's research without permission; scholars and students always use proper citations in papers; professors may not circulate or publish student papers without the writer's permission; and students may not circulate or post materials (handouts, exams, syllabi--any class materials) from their classes without the written permission of the instructor.

"Any test, paper or report submitted by you and that bears your name is presumed to be your own original work that has not previously been submitted for credit in another course unless you obtain prior written approval to do so from your instructor. In all of your assignments, including your homework or drafts of papers, you may use words or ideas written by other individuals in publications, web sites, or other sources, but only with proper attribution. If you are not clear about the expectations for completing an assignment or taking a test or examination, be sure to seek clarification from your instructor or GSI beforehand. Finally, you should keep in mind that as a member of the campus community, you are expected to demonstrate integrity in all of your academic endeavors and will be evaluated on your own merits. The consequences of cheating and academic dishonesty—including a formal discipline file, possible loss of future internship, scholarship, or employment opportunities, and denial of admission to graduate school—are simply not worth it." (Quoted directly from <https://teaching.berkeley.edu/statements-course-policies#academic>).

All students must abide by the Berkeley Campus Code of Student Conduct <https://sa.berkeley.edu/codeof-conduct>.

Scheduling Conflicts. Please notify the instructor in writing by the second week of the term about any known or potential extracurricular conflicts (such as religious observances, graduate or medical school interviews, or team activities). The instructor shall try his or her best to help you with making accommodations, but cannot promise them in all cases. In the event there is no mutually workable solution, you may be dropped from the course. (For more information, see the Guidelines Concerning Scheduling Conflicts with Academic Requirements <https://academicsenate.berkeley.edu/sites/default/files/guide-acad-sched-conflicts-final-2014.pdf>).
